Mission

“Justitia Cum Clementia Praestantia Servitiumque” can be translated as ...
Justice and Equity
Put Forth With Devotion

The Mission of the California Probation,
Parole and Correctional Association is to:

- Promote the professionalism of corrections practitioners
- Support research relevant to corrections
- Advocated positions on corrections issues to law makers and policy makers
- Educate the public on issues vital to corrections
- Promote collaborative efforts with related agencies
- Provide a supportive network for its members

CPPCA Code of Ethics

In recognition of the profound responsibilities inherent in a profession dedicated to the adjustment of social relationships,

I acknowledge these to be my guiding precepts;

- SERVE with humility
- ACT without prejudice
- UPHOLD the Law with dignity
- BE OBJECTIVE in the performance of my duties
- RESPECT the inalienable rights of all persons
- HOLD inviolate those confidences reposed in me
- COOPERATE with fellow workers and related agencies
- BE AWARE of my responsibilities to the individual and to the community
- IMPROVE my professional standards through continuously seeking knowledge and understanding

I accept these principles as my code of ethics and shall build my professional life upon them.

Code of ethics adopted by the CPPCA June 7, 1946
